"This case is an important one, and has created some considerable excitement in this community. The defendant in this case was arrested by the United States Marshal on the lith inst., on a warrant issued by my authority, on a charge of treason against the United States, and giving them aid and comfort. The affidarit upon which it was issued was made by M. Whilden on the same day.

"The testimony on the part of the United States is several letters found in the possession of the accused, from persons in different parts of the country, and several copies of the paper that he had been publishing. Some of the letters approve of the course of the accused, and some condemn it. The defense has offered no some condemn it. The defense has offered no testimony whatever, but submitted the case to me without testimony or a remark.

"Now, from a careful examination of all the letters and papers that have been submitted to me, I cannot find anything that the laws would recognize as treason. Therefore I think the Government has failed to make out a case against the accused that would warrant me in holding him for a further hearing before the Circuit Court of the United States. Therefore, I deem it my duty to discharge the accused.

"I would further say, that I find in the papers that have been submitted to me, several artimeters of the New York 19th regiment, twenty-three in number, are to be sent to Baltimore to-day, and forwarded thence to Tortugas. Reports are current here that Gen. Johnston is moving up the Potomac.

Some state his force at 35,000 to 40,600 men. If he essays the attempt his advance will be met in a becoming manner. "Now, from a careful examination of all the Circuit Court of the United States. Therefore, I deem it my duty to discharge the accused.

'I would further say, that I find in the papers that have been submitted to me, several articles that are offensive in their character, and are calculated to excite the minds of the people at this time, and unbecoming a minister of the Gospel. But I am informed that he has ceased publishing the paper, which, I think, is very senable on his part, for I think it very certain that a paper of this kind will do no good, but, on the contrary, much harm, when our country on the contrary, much harm, when our country is convulsed from center to circumference."

Two Hailroad Bridges Burned.

Louisville, Sept. 18.—At 9 o'clock this morning, when the United States troops reached Rolling Fork, five miles west of Muldrough's Hill, they found the bridges over the Fork burned, and the enemy on the hill—in what number was not ascertained.

General Sherman discovering a ford about breast deep, sent a reconnoitering party, which had not returned at 4 o'clock P. M., at which time Lieut. Colonel Johnston was dispatched from Louisville with 700 additional men, conisting of the remnant of Rousseau's command and 400 Home Gnards.

There was great enthusiasm by the bystand

The city is full of rumors, among which is one that General Buck-ner is commanding the Confederate forces at Muldrough's Hill. This is doubted. Another report is, that after the secessionists had burned the bridge at Rolling Fork, the Union men burned the bridge at Rollin, fifteen miles south of Elizabethtown, whereby they stopped two of the three trains which the secessionists supposed they had obtained by the burning of the Rolling Fork bridge. This is probably true.

JEVPERSON CITY, Sept. 18.—We have no definite reports from Lexington, but it is a settled fact that that place is invested by Gen. Price with some 15,000 rebel troops. Good military authorities here are confident, however, that the United States troops there have been reinforced, and that unless the place was taken yesterday, it is safe. Price is reported to have a large park of artillery, part of which are the guns taken from General Sigel's battery at Spring-field. A part of Price's force is reported to be forty miles from this city. His scouts have been seen fifteen miles from here.

Been. McCulloch, with 18,000 well armed rebels, is reported to be advancing rapidly in the direction of Rolla or this city. Many think this will be the point of attack. Design of Johnston's Army.

Dearnestown, Md., Sept. 18.—It is understood to-day that Gen. McClellan would arrive here to-morrow, on his way to review the army of the Upper Potomac.

On Saturday last a scouting party crossed the Potomac at the mouth of Seneca Creek, and penetrated the country in the vicinity of Lees burg. They saw three regiments of infantry drilling on the Leesburg Fair Grounds. These regiments, they were informed by a negro, were Mississippians, while a fourth regiment from that State had mutinied and diabanded. Information has also been received that there were other large bodies of rebels in that section, and if salt, coffee, etc., were not shortly received, general distress would ensue, both to the army general distress would ensue, both to the army and families. The scouts saw not a living be ing, except the negro, in the country. wheat had been harvested, but the corn

From the best information obtained, there is little doubt that General Johnston's army, now apparently moving in detail from opposite Washington towards this section, fully reaches, if it does not exceed, the highest estimate given by rumor. Neither is it impossible that Johnston will endeavor to cross the Potomac in the neighborhood of the Monocacy, with a view of attempting to reach Frederick, to protect the Legislature while they pass the ordinance of secession, trusting to the well known secession sentiment in Baltimore and the lower counties of Maryland, to raise the standard of rebellion and divide and weaken the Union army. Either this movement, or an abrupt abandonment of the whole line of the Potomac, appears inevitable.
